

Support the mental health of students of color: Become a Crisis Text Line Counselor

CRISIS TEXT LINE |

THE STEVE FUND

The Steve Fund is partnering with Crisis Text Line to use text messaging as a means to improve the critically needed access for young people of color to crisis counseling. The Fund views text messaging as a key component of its strategy towards addressing the unmet mental health needs of this population. Through this partnership, we will recruit, select, and train a group of young people of color to become crisis counselors with the Crisis Text Line.

If you are interested in becoming a crisis counselor or learning more about this partnership, please email sarah@stevefund.org, visit www.stevefund.org & www.crisistextline.org
